Many Topics Before Town Fathers --Meet Again Fri.

Horseshoe Pitching, Water Supply, Keeping of Cows, and Other Contentious Matters Keep Council Occupied.

The meeting of the council was convened on Tuesday when a delegation of five, representing the horseshoe pitchers, presented their side of the horseshoe controversy.

The councillors passed quickly over the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and cleared the table to hear the delegation.

Mrs. Sharp's letter of complaint, read at the last meeting, was re-read. Mayor Pattinson stated that the council was behind the organization, and only wished there were many more organizations of a similar nature in town. He then read a letter from Dr. Rose, the contents of which were concurred in by Dr. Claxton. The letter stated that Mrs. Sharp was subject to severe headaches, and that he had placed her under medical treatment. He wrote of the horseshoe pitch, which is located in the alley alongside the Sharp residence, and stated "in the interest of public health, arrangements should be made at once for the establishment of the horseshoe grounds in another location."

All delegates spoke in support of their present location, but admitted they could not ignore the doctor's letter. It was suggested by the council that the delegates appoint a committee of two and interview Dr. Rose. Edward Wood stated that if the present horseshoe organization was forced to disband because of lack of suitable grounds, two hotel owners were ready to locate pitches close by their premises. This, stated a councillor, would be an evil to the town. The town agreed to give the club every assistance, including the hauling of sand to whatever location the members may choose.

Steve Pettinger, whose duty it has been for a great number of years to keep the refuse dump in a sanitary condition, was given an annual grant of $25, taxes to be included in that amount.

A request of the Nazarene church to purchase two lots located between Sartorius' lumber office and the creek, and directly opposite Coleman Service garage, for a sum of $150, was refused. It was moved to advertise those lots for sale, preferably to any person desiring to build a business place.

A letter from Mrs. Sam Hatfield was read.

The case of Tom Wrobel, who is in destitute circumstances, was tabled. Mr. Menzies, provincial health inspector, had been down in the week and inspected the proposed new subdivision, commonly known as Beck's townsite. Mr. Menzies had informed the council that wherever habitation is found, sooner or later water in that vicinity became contaminated. (Continued on Page 8)

A SOURCE OF COLEMAN'S AND ALBERTA'S WEALTH

The above views of the tipple and interior of the cleaning plant of McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. Limited convey some impression of the extensive plant required for the preparation of bituminous coal for market. Every effort is made to ship coal as near 100 per cent perfect as humanly possible, and it has always been the policy of the company to install the most modern machinery for this purpose. Daily capacity of this plant is 3,000 tons, a large proportion of the output being used by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The western lines. Development of this mine has continued steadily since 1910, and many of the employees at that time are still with the company.

Youth Training Program for The Pass Towns

Miss Isobel McDonald, instructor for Coleman, Outlines Objective of Program.

The government of Alberta, through the department of education and in conjunction with the dominion-provincial youth training program, has outlined a plan of promoting healthful, recreational training of all youths between the ages of 16 and 35, married or single, employed or unemployed, and not attending school. There is, however, no hard and fast rule that allows only those between the given ages to attend the classes, for all adults are welcome. This program is based upon that of the British Columbia plan, which is proving such a success.

The conditions under which the program could be started were: the government was to outline and supervise the program, and train and pay a leader to conduct a centre, the approved leaders for the Crow's Nest Pass division being Miss Isobel McDonald for the women and Mr. James Carlson, of Bellevue, for the men. In addition, the community was to provide a suitable hall and the necessary equipment.

A three-week training course was taken by Miss McDonald and Mr. Carlson in Edmonton, along with 56 other leaders from different centres in the province, under the supervision of J. H. Ross, youth training scheme director.

The purpose of this program is to provide recreational physical education to all who take part in the free courses. Separate classes for men and women will be held twice weekly in the winter months in Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue.

With this plan, a new system is evolved, the old gymnastic routine no longer being favored, as the pupils are kept in too rigid positions and the main objective is to acquire grace and flexibility of the muscles. The scheme includes fundamental gymnastics, rhythmic and bench exercises, tumbling, dancing and games. It is hoped that classes will be held in the Community hall, beginning in the early part of October, for all those interested, but further notices will appear.

SCHOOL BOARD PLACING INSURANCE

At a special meeting of the trustees on Tuesday evening, placing of a policy for over $10,000 fire insurance was authorized with Mrs. H. E. Gate. It is understood varying amounts will be placed with other insurance offices in town, to be considered at a later meeting.

DEVELOPING HIS MUSCLES

Henry Tibergien, of the Coleman Hardware Co. store, is camping in the Elk Valley. A party of Coleman anglers went up there, arriving early in the morning, while the hoar frost was still on the trees, and were met by Henry coming out of his tent, in his short-sleeved undershirt, stretching his arms and giving the boys the impression that he was getting really tough in that invigorating climate, growing hair on his chest and getting to be an out-and-out "he man." "This is the life," proudly remarked Henry, throwing out his chest and taking in big gulps of the ozone.

Edmonton Failed to Fill Softball Engagement

Edmonton, northern Alberta intermediate champions, failed to keep their engagement with Coleman Cubs on Saturday afternoon for the provincial title.

A wire from W. H. Dingle, president Alberta Softball Association, at Calgary, was received by John Binda, club president, at midnight Saturday, stating that several Edmonton players were unable to travel and that the northern team had failed to start for Coleman.

He suggested that Coleman offer Edmonton the same guarantee as last week and play the games at Coleman. Edmonton asked Dingle to transfer the games to Calgary and each team split the gate, if any.

By Edmonton's failure to come here, the Cubs were placed in an embarrassing position. They had placed posters all over the Pass and sold over $50 worth of tags. Angelo Gentile, team manager, stated that Edmonton will play in Coleman or not at all.

Regarding the tags, Angelo stated that persons holding tags for last week's games will be admitted free to this Sunday's games. Should Edmonton fail to keep their engagement here next Sunday, tag-holders are asked to present their tag to the person from whom they bought it, and their money will be refunded. Unclaimed money will be placed in the club funds.

A shower was held at the home of Mrs. Sam Sagoff in honor of John Peavy (nee Emma Anile) on Monday evening, when a number of useful presents were received. Mrs. Peavy is a former pupil of Coleman schools, and last year was on the public schools staff.

Members of the L.O.B.A. and their friends met on Monday evening at a wheel drive sponsored by the Orange lodge, nine tables being in play. Prize winners were Mrs. T. Mitchell, Miss Edith Haywood, Mrs. H. H. Hubert and Mrs. R. Mitchell. The quilt drawn for by the lodge was won by Mrs. Harry Antle, and was donated by Mrs. Lou Clark—a very fine piece of handwork.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's United church will hold their annual bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 26, from 3 to 6 p.m. Kindly keep the date in mind.

HOCKEY NOTES

Mike Kryszchuk, Canadians' newly acquired hockey coach, arrived in town on Saturday. Mike is being introduced to all players, and should be thoroughly acquainted with them before the snow flies.

"Putt" Holditch, left winger, is having a little trouble with Olds. It seems he entered into a contract with Olds last winter, which that team has abided by in all its clauses. Holditch now wants to come to Coleman, but since Olds have abided by their contract, they demand that Holditch do the same and do his puck-chasing for them. The local executive watches the argument with keen interest.

It is reported Calgary's hockey players are ordered to train with Carl Cronin's Bronks in preparation for their winter schedule. Since hockey is no longer sport, but big business, it is to prevent the Coleman executive from hiring the services of Fred Lees to get the boys out on the road and their leg muscles and wind into condition? Since it is not the intention of running Fred ragged, it is suggested they hire a bicycle for him.

A brush fire close to the Prospect on Monday evening gave McGillivray mine officials a very anxious moment. It was at one time thought necessary to call the miners working in that portion of McGillivray mine to the surface. However, the fire was put under control with little damage done.

Coleman Schools Prepare for Their Annual Field Day

The playground of Coleman schools is the scene of much activity as boys and girls train themselves to meet the competition of other Pass school athletes on Sept. 30. The shield, at present in possession of Coleman, will be competed for.

Ray Spillers has spent many hours in training his athletes in running and jumping, and is confident that Coleman will again retain the shield. The sports program will be held at Blairmore stadium.

Prize winners at the whist drive of St. Alban's Ladies' Guild last Thursday evening were Mrs. James Hadley, Mrs. Wilfrid Dutil, Mrs. George Derbyshire and Mrs. Burpee Steeves. Following the games, a lunch was served, and an auction was conducted by Andy Thornber, whereby the vegetables left from the harvest festival decorations were disposed of, the proceeds going towards church funds.

Interest Warming Up in Alta. Senior Hockey League

General Meeting of League Representatives in Calgary on Sunday, Oct. 9, to Consider Schedule.

The proposed league schedule for the Alberta senior hockey league was received by secretary Fred Guerdan on Saturday. 112 games are scheduled to be played, starting the last week in November. The November games will be played in the arena having artificial ice. Coleman will play its first home game against Lethbridge on Dec. 3. This schedule will in all likelihood be changed when the individual team executives go over it. Although the local executive have not yet met to study the schedule, Secretary Guerdan states that Coleman has to travel north for only two games. Considering that it may cost Canadians $400 or over to make a trip, it means that they will have to be given more than two games on a road trip to make it worth while.

A general meeting of league representatives will be held at Calgary on Sunday, Oct. 9, to consider all suggested changes in the schedule, and other matters.

Roughaud and Stewart Win Southern Alberta Mixed Doubles Title

Playing at Claresholm on Sunday, Chick Roughaud, of Coleman, and Miss Stewart, of Claresholm, won the southern Alberta mixed doubles tennis title against the challenge of Mrs. Art Wilson and Addie Donaldson, of Lethbridge. The scores were 6-0, 3-6, 9-7.

Roughaud and partner played perfect tennis the first set to win at love, Lethbridge came back strong in the second to break their opponents' service to win out.

The third set was an uphill fight all the way for Roughaud and Miss Stewart. Training 2-5, with Addie Donaldson having his service at 40-15 for match point, Roughaud was forced to uncover a brilliant assortment of strokes to bring himself and partner into the game, draw level with his opponents, and then go on to win.

The Misses Muriel Naylor and Sheila Devine, and Messrs. R. Shone and Reg. Jones accompanied Roughaud to Claresholm and took part in inter-club matches.

A number of Pass fans, having seen reports that the title game was being played at Coleman, came to see the match, only to be disappointed. Eight persons were here from Bellevue, and a party from the North Fork.

Vigilance Means Safety

With the shooting season for birds now in full swing and the time for hunting of big game to follow a little later, it is an appropriate time to remind all who handle rifles, shot guns and revolvers that sudden tragedy lurks close by for some victim of carelessness.

Now is the time to remember that all too frequently it is the "unloaded gun" that unwittingly snuffs out a life or is responsible for irreparable injury to a child, a relative or a companion, or that he who is careless with firearms may cause death or injury to himself without a moment's warning.

How It May Happen

There are those who will go out blithely for a day of enjoyment in the crisp autumn air and who will return to their homes full of grief and remorse over some accident for which a moment's thoughtlessness was responsible and the memory of which will never be entirely obliterated.

There is the sportsman of excitable temperament who is too keen to get in his shot and will not wait before pressing the trigger until he is quite sure of the nature of the object at which he points his weapon. He sees something move and that is sufficient. He raises his gun to his shoulder and lets fly in the general direction of the movement. His quarry may be a bird, it may be a dog or a cow or it may spell "curtains" for a child or a hunting friend.

Then there are those hunters who will surround a comparatively small slough laden with ducks and who pull the trigger hastily in their anxiety to get a bird without making sure that their companions are not in line to receive all or a portion of the discharged pellets. Such accidents are too common around sloughs skirted with bush which may render visibility imperfect.

There are also those who, despite the cautions frequently uttered by the well versed in rules of hunting, will carry their loaded guns at a dangerous angle, risking the lives of their companions; those who will drag guns through fences without regard to the direction of the muzzle and the risk of snagging the trigger; those who will place loaded guns in the house inviting death for some innocent child or curious adult and those who, despite the law to the contrary, will persist in firing guns from a moving automobile, wagon or buggy.

All of these and others who violate the huntsman's common rules of safety are a constant menace during the hunting season. None of them can be charged with murder, yet the result of their actions may be the same as those of the man who sets out to kill deliberately his kind, but they cannot be excused because lack of ordinary precautions were not taken or because the common sense rules of safety were not observed.

Rules of Safety

"Safe carrying of guns must become a definite habit," recently said C. K. Howard, manager of the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways, in an interview outlining a few suggestions, the rigid observance of which would constitute an insurance policy against regrettable accidents.

"The golden rule is that the muzzle of a carried gun must never sweep the horizon," he continued. "If an accident discharge takes place it should send the shot into the ground before the feet of the person carrying the gun, or into the air. The muzzle of a gun should never be allowed to point towards the person carrying it nor toward any other person."

"Guns being taken into boats or vehicles, or over fences and other obstructions, should precede the person carrying them. Cartridges should be removed on entering camp or a house. Loaded guns should never be aimed at anything unless the person intends to pull the trigger. No loaded gun should be placed where it may be knocked down by a dog or a child, nor can there be any excuse for a loaded gun standing where it may be handled by a person who does not know that the weapon is loaded."

"Perhaps the most frequent cause of shooting accidents is the dangerous habit of some hunters who shoot at 'something moving in the bushes' without first making certain that the moving object is the game they seek rather than a hunting companion."

As Mr. Howard properly observed, "Few accidents happen to people who are careful of their guns. The precepts of safety are simple. If they are generally observed many lives can be saved each hunting season. The hunter must never forget that the man who 'didn't know it was loaded' is always with us."

Mr. Howard struck at the root of the matter when he said that few accidents happen to people who are careful with their guns. It is true there may be an occasional accident which could not be foreseen or prevented, as for instance, when the hunter with his eye on his quarry trips over some minor obstacle at his feet, but such accidents are rare and nearly all the tragedies that occur in the hunting field can be attributed to carelessness and sometimes to criminal negligence.

Accidents which fall in this latter category can be avoided every time, but only by rigid observance of the few simple rules laid down by Mr. Howard in his timely interview. Sportsmen should always be on the alert to prevent such accidents and remember that eternal vigilance is the sole price of safety for guns and ammunition are concerned.

Voting In The Bahamas

Ballot System May Replace Oral Method Now In Use

Voters line up alphabetically at the polls to elect their candidate to office in the Bahamas legislature by the antiquated viva voce (oral) method of voting now, but a plan to change that is afoot.

Voters in the Bahamas mark no ballots. On election day, they go to the polls and are asked for whom they wish to vote. Their answers are entered on a printed form by a recorder.

When Harry Oakes, Canadian gold mine operator, defeated Milo Butler, negro grocer, for the Legislature in the Nassau election several months ago, the campaign was so well organized that Oakes' supporters were lined up alphabetically at the polls.

Women cannot vote in the Bahamas. Men over 21 who own real estate or household property to the value of $25 or more qualify as electors. Members of the legislative council or the representative assembly must own real or personal property to the value of $1,000.

First Gold Brick

Production Has Started At The Yellowstone Mine

Signaling the start of actual gold production in the Northwest Territories, the first gold brick, weighing 72½ pounds, was poured recently at the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's Yellowstone mine. It was announced by Dr. Charles Cammell, deputy Minister of Mines and Resources for the Dominion.

Dr. Cammell, accompanied by G. Hanson, assistant chief geologist of the Federal Geological Survey department, arrived at Edmonton after a tour of northern mining centres in Canadian Airways' plane piloted by Dr. Farrell.

Dr. Cammell officiated at the pouring of the brick.

Canada's War Memorial

Seventy-Foot Arch Is Now Being Erected In Ottawa

Behind a gray board fence across Wellington street from the Parliament Buildings' east block, in Ottawa, Canada's towering national war memorial is slowly being erected 12 years after the design was originally selected.

Located in downtown Ottawa on the Plaza, the 70-foot memorial will face south to the Rideau Canal and the famous driveway. Back drop for the huge memorial is the parliament buildings, the Ottawa River and the distant Gatineau Hills.

The structure, now finished will be a granite arch topped by bronze figures of victory and liberty with a military group passing through the arch at the base.

Will Your Lantern Stand This Test?

A hurricane, as officially defined by the United States Weather Bureau, is a wind "exceeding 75 miles an hour."

Tests just completed by Aircraft engineers on a Coleman Gasoline Lantern placed in a 10 mile wind tunnel subjected to a gale of 105 miles an hour couldn't blow out the light.

The secret of the Coleman Lantern's ability to withstand these high winds is due to the design of the heat resisting glass globe which deflects moving air away from the lighted mantle, it being impossible for direct blasts of air to strike the point of illumination.

Constitute A Menace

Ten per cent. of automobile drivers are afflicted with "night blindness," a sudden failure of vision with the approach of darkness. Dr. Ulysses Forget, Warren, R.I., said in a paper delivered to the Association of French-speaking Doctors of North America in convention at Ottawa.

"If such people drive a car at night, without realizing their affliction, they are a menace both to themselves and others," he declared.

Thrills For Onlookers

Pilot Shows What Skill Can Do In An Emergency

Key nerve plus superlative ability and judgment combined to thrill military and newspaper observers at Camp Borden with an example of what can be done in a moment of emergency.

The pilot of an army co-operation plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force, taking part in the war manoeuvres sent chills up the spines of those on the ground as he swooped close to the ground at terrific speed and hooked a despatch which had been strung on wires between posts in the middle of a cleared field.

Circling far above, the plane suddenly went into a steep dive, a steel hook dangling from below the landing gear. Coming almost to ground level, the plane flattened out, sped between the posts and missed the message by inches. Quickly the pilot put his machine into a steep climb and went back west of the field for another attempt.

With the wind screaming in the struts and the observers on the ground almost recoiled to a snaphop, the plane dived once more and there was gasp as the machine appeared to be headed directly for the trees. But the pilot knew his job. He skimmed the tree tops and went straight for the centre of the two posts. For a moment it seemed as though the hook had again missed its objective, but as the plane rose once more it was seen to have securely caught the paper.

Boast Out-Of-Date

It used to be—it still is with a few—the practice to boast about how fast the "beat" of "old time" could travel. That was foolish; the sensible idea is to drive always so that the car is under control and let the surplus speed lie in reserve until emergency demands it.

Motor Car Development

In Early Days Few People Forewarn The Future Of The Industry

W. G. Robertson, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Automobile association, asserted in a speech at the Canadian Good Roads association convention that few in the early days foresaw the future of the "horseless carriage."

The British Association for the Advancement of Science concluded at its 1896 session that such vehicles could never be widely used because their operation would require too much skill and their drivers would not have "the advantage of the intelligence of the horse in sharing his path."

W. B. Hutchinson, of Ontario highways department, said the experience in Ontario has been that when a loose gravel or stone road had to carry traffic in excess of 500 vehicles per day the maintenance charges per mile per year were excessive and it was practically impossible to keep the surface in a satisfactory serviceable condition. Advantages of transforming such roads to a more permanent type of dustless surface were fairly obvious.

Stop Poultry Fights

Red Goggles Make White Leghorns Less More Peaceable

The mythifying spectacle of 3,000 white Leghorn chickens at the Essex County Penitentiary's poultry farm in North Caldwell, N.J., wearing red goggles was explained by Warden Floyd Hanna, who said the rose-colored glasses had stopped fighting which had resulted in the death of 10 per cent. of his Leghorns in a year.

Guards in charge of the poultry farm found a harmless peck causing a slight scratch immediately was transformed into a death fight by the sight of blood.

If the chickens saw red all the time, the keepers thought, this felonious tendency might be curbed. They devised goggles of a small strip of leather fitted with red insignias and wired to the beak. Since the goggles were put into use there has not been a fatal fighting among the Leghorns.

Raymond Massey In New Role

A Canadian Representing Abraham Lincoln, Brings Comments From New York Newspaper

Prospect of a Canadian actor playing the role of Abraham Lincoln on the New York stage was too much for the Tribune Daily News.

The News, worked up over the idea of a British subject playing such a "thoroughly American" part as the great emancipator, shoved the subject of international affairs to the tail end of its single editorial column and gave over the leader space to discuss the question: "A Canadian as Abraham Lincoln?"

Prompting the editorial was the much-heralded performance of Raymond Massey of Toronto in Robert E. Sherwood's "Abraham Lincoln, Illinois," scheduled to open early in the new theatre season.

Sherwood himself picked Massey for the part. The News thinks Massey as an actor is "fine" and "he certainly does look like Lincoln." But it anoints the nationality angle a big hurdle.

"We think he is going to stumble over something. In the subconscious minds of those who watch him, unable to unify the actor with his part, there is bound to be this question: 'Why in the world should a Canadian (you might say an Englishman, in view of his years of experience on the British stage) play the part of so thorough an American as Lincoln?'"

Hope Is Expressed For Peaceful Solution Of European Crisis

London. London newspapers generally took an optimistic view of the Anglo-French communique issued from No. 10 Downing street, and suggested a peaceful solution of the territorial tangle in Europe's hot-spot might be effected through negotiation.

The influential Times (Independent) declared:

"There will be instant and universal welcome to this news, signifying as it does the accomplishment of the second stage in a new endeavor for an equitable and honorable settlement by consent."

The paper continued: "Public opinion in many countries has been compelled to ask itself whether it will be a gain or loss to the security and homogeneity of Czechoslovakia to have a discontented and disloyal minority across her frontiers rather than within them."

"This particular issue has been widely debated in France as well as in this country and there has been not a little support from men of political eminence for the view that a settlement safeguarding the security and independence of Czechoslovakia can be found even with the loss of a recalcitrant minority and cannot indeed be found without it."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative):

"In one respect it must be admitted the immediate outcome of the Bechtsgaden meeting has been extremely disappointing. It had been possible to hope Mr. Chamberlain's gesture might have brought about a suspension of provocative utterance and action which has been the main issues at stake were being submitted to sober judgment and counsel."

"Instead the German press and radio have raised their campaign against Czechoslovakia to a culminating and hitherto unprecedented pitch of violence."

"The German radio has not hesitated to characterize President Benes roundly as a 'criminal' and to make a personal accusation against him which is as disgusting as false. Not only so but Herr Henlein has been allowed to organize and arm on German soil the 'free corps' of Sudeten 'refugees' and to use the German news agency for another incendiary proclamation."

"The inflammatory and irresponsible propaganda now pouring out of Germany is as grave an impediment to the cause of peace as is the original dispute itself."

The Daily Express, Lord Beaverbrook's independent newspaper, recalled that when the republic of Czechoslovakia came into being in 1919 Eduard Benes, now president, promised the new state would be organized internally along the cautious lines of Switzerland, and declared this pledge had not been fulfilled.

The newspaper added:

"Do not let it be supposed that the Daily Express supports a plebiscite. The Daily Express looks with anxiety on such a step and believes that if it were found necessary to cede Sudeten territory (to Germany) the step should be taken without this expedient."

"We say this because we believe that a plebiscite will result in disorder and strife, bloodshed and loss of life."

The Daily Herald (Labor), which went to press before the Downing street communique on complete agreement between Britain and France was issued, said:

"It is satisfactory that before consulting with them (the French ministers) Mr. Chamberlain had received representatives of the National Council of Labor who could impress upon him the strong demand of British labor that justice for Czechoslovakia no less than for the Sudetens must be the foundation of a settlement."

The Daily Mail (Independent) said no man in Europe was in closer touch with the situation than Mr. Chamberlain.

"He is weighing every alternative," the editorial said, "and the public may be assured that his policy will in his opinion be the best to prevent war."

"It must of necessity be a last-chance policy, for the statement of Europe have allowed the sands of time to run dangerously low. Throughout the whole problem of Czechoslovakia the words 'too late' have mocked the efforts of conciliators."

"Two years ago, even one year ago, the Czechoslovak government by timely concessions to its minorities could have averted a crisis on which now threatens not only its own existence but world peace."

Disorders In Palestine

Death Toll For Two Days Reaches More Than Forty Lives

Jerusalem. Terrorist bombings, handbombs and sabotage have resulted in a heavy casualty toll among Britons, Arabs and Jews in the holy land.

At least 16 persons, including a British police officer, were killed in a bomb attack in Jerusalem, raising the death toll for two days to more than 40.

The British police officer was killed by a mine explosion near Beisan. The blast also killed three Jews. Ten Arabs were killed and 10 wounded when a bomb was hurled at a crowded bus on a northern Palestine highway.

Want To Join Army

Political Prisoners In France Want To Be Mobilized

Paris. "Political" prisoners, accused of planning to start a revolution in France, asked Premier Daladier to mobilize them if war comes.

From prison where they are waiting trial on charges of participating in a revolutionary plot of the C.S.A.R. organization, they wrote:

"We put ourselves at your disposal for all military or technical duties in mobilization measures, now or in the future."

ing any useful purpose, it is likely to jeopardize an already critical national situation.

"Believing that the urgent need, at the present time, is orderly economic and financial reform, based on a consolidation of confederation which will yield lasting national unity, this government is submitting Alberta's case to the people of Canada and their several governments as a first step to secure impartial consideration, free from the influence of invested interests, to the grave issues which confront our country and this province."

"We earnestly hope that this carefully prepared case will be considered in the spirit in which it is presented and that it will contribute materially to a solution of the problems which so seriously affect Canada."

Premier Aberhart recalled the Alberta government had objected to personnel and terms of reference of the commission and declared subsequent events had served to strengthen the government's position.

"It is the view of this government that far from the commission serv-

Paintings Arrive For Exhibit

Work of Canadian Artists To Be Shown In London

Ottawa. Five tons of Canadian paintings arrived in London, England, Sept. 13 and remained unpacked at the wharf until a supplementary shipment arrived. They have been uncovered and dusted off preparatory to being hung in a special exhibit at the Tate gallery in London.

In the massive crates are 250 pictures by Canadian artists portraying "a century of Canadian art." The exhibit, to be opened at the gallery by the Duke of Kent Oct. 15, is the first from the British Dominions to be shown at the famed rendezvous of London art connoisseurs.

Gleaned from galleries across Canada and private collections, these paintings are representative works of Canadian artists. Included was the exhibit of water-colors and oils are several outstanding pieces of Canadian sculpturing.

The bulk of the paintings were taken from the walls of the national gallery of Canada in Ottawa and the art gallery of Toronto.

Esquimo Ranchers

Plan To Have Reindeer Herd For Northern Natives

Ottawa. Canada's northward will soon have something new—Esquimo ranchers when an agreement now being negotiated between the department of mines and resources and Eskimos is completed.

R. A. Gilson, director of lands, parks and forest branch of the department of mines and resources, just back from a trip to the Northwest Territories, said agreements for a loan of a herd of 800 reindeer to Charlie Rufus and his father, Rufus Lakokluk, were discussed while he was in the north.

The government will retain the ownership of the 800 deer, but the natural increase will be the property of the Eskimos.

The food and clothing to be provided to reindeer herds in northern Canada will serve to augment the ordinary sources of subsistence of the natives and there is a ready market for surplus meat and hides.

Affecting U.S. Livestock

Washington State Fighting Sleeping Sickness Among Horses

Olympia, Wash.—The first outbreak of "sleeping sickness" among livestock in Washington was reported by Dr. Marvin R. Hinton of the division of dairy and livestock.

About 30 head of horses have been lost in 50 cases, Dr. Hales said. The disease, encephalomyelitis, is localized in Benton and Franklin counties, where farmers have been losing horses and mules for several months, but only recently learned the cause. The department of agriculture is making an investigation and attempting to work out control measures.

Dr. Hales said about 40 to 50 per cent. of animals affected are lost. The department is vaccinating many animals in the district.

Troops For Palestine

Egypt Taking Defence Precautions In North Africa

London. A movement of British reinforcements to Palestine was announced simultaneously with reports Egypt was taking defence precautions in north Africa in conjunction with Great Britain.

Although officials declined to disclose the number of troops going to Palestine, it was estimated 8,000 men were involved in the transfer.

The colonial office announced two cavalry regiments and a second battalion of the West Yorkshire Regiment were being sent to Palestine with three battalions from India.

A despatch from Cairo said three battalions of Egyptian troops were ordered to the western desert bordering Libya, Italy's north African colony. A British regiment stationed at Cairo was ordered to stand by for a possible transfer there.

It was estimated 3,000 troops were involved in this movement.

King Farouk of Egypt is on a tour of the defenses along the western desert.

An unexplained intensification of military precautions were reported from Valetta, Malta, in the Mediterranean.

Wheat At Churchill

Million Bushels Shipped To Port On Hudson Bay

Winnipeg. George H. Melvor, chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, announced the Churchill elevator now held sufficient wheat to meet this fall's shipments overseas.

"Sufficient wheat has been forwarded to Churchill to take care of present available ocean tonnage directed to Churchill for the fall movement," he said. "Later shipments will go forward for winter storage and the elevator filled for this purpose."

Mr. Melvor said more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat had been shipped to the port on Hudson Bay. Three steamers have been chartered to move the wheat.

S.S. Ruby left Newcastle-on-Tyne for Churchill Sept. 8 and is due Sept. 23 to land. She will be followed by the S.S. Daley Sept. 25 and the S.S. Troutspout Sept. 27. The British firm, the Roper Line, operates the vessels.

Carried Gold Cargo

London. — The liner Queen Mary sailed for New York carrying gold valued at $9,000,000 (more than $43,000,000) in record trans-Atlantic shipment of the yellow metal. The cargo represents the largest shipment in the huge flow of gold out of Great Britain set off when the pound sterling started its long decline more than two months ago.

Prague Cabinet Takes Strong Stand Against Talk Of Plebiscite

Prague. — A Czechoslovak cabinet member warned that Czechoslovakia would not agree to any plebiscite to determine what shall be done with the republic's Sudeten minority problem.

The statement was made by Rudolf Bechyně, minister of railways, who declared "a plebiscite would be an effort cut to raz." Bechyně on past occasions has acted as premier during the absence of Premier Holza.

His declaration officially gave notice Czechoslovakia would not permit dismemberment of her territory, despite any agreement for settlement of the Czechoslovak-Sudeten dispute which might be reached by other European powers.

(Talk of a plebiscite to settle the Sudeten minority issue was spurred after Chancellor Hitler at Nuremberg demanded self-determination for neighboring Germans, talk that increased in some circles after Prime Minister Chamberlain's sudden visit to Hitler.)

Bechyně's statement, given in a newspaper interview, followed the government's action in dissolving the Sudeten German party, the Sudeten storm-troopers organization and the issuance of a warrant for Sudeten Chieftain Konrad Henlein on charges of treason.

"A plebiscite would be a short cut to war, inasmuch as if there were a plebiscite, no government would exist in Prague," Bechyně said.

"And any Czechoslovak government which would permit a plebiscite to take place would desert immediately because it would awaken opposition of a determined people which would rather die than permit its homeland to be dismembered."

"In addition, a plebiscite would not alter things; if nothing worse happened it would mean millions of Germans living in the plebiscite district would be obliged to move into the interior of the Czechoslovak republic."

"Then we would have a new minorities problem and the basis of a new pretence to bring pressure on Czechoslovakia which would lead to destruction of their land."

"In this country there will be no plebiscite and no international policy. We have established order and we also will maintain it."

"It is well to see that we are in a position to carry out our program for the treatment of all nationalities of our republic with complete justice. I plead to the public that it have complete faith in the government and the army."

The minister's statement followed government action in outlawing the Sudeten German party.

The party was ordered dissolved immediately as a speedy second reply to the proclamation by its Berlin-supported leader, Konrad Henlein, that Sudeten Germans want "to return to their home in the German reich."

The first answer was the order for Henlein's arrest on a charge of treason, its has to Germany.

These steps were taken despite the fact it was an open secret in Prague that several foreign legations were urging the Sudeten party be treated gently in view of the delicate negotiations for preservation of European peace now under way between Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain.

At the very core of these negotiations lies Chancellor Hitler's determination to "protect" the Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia.

But the Prague government was angered by Henlein's suggestion to the world that Czechoslovakia be dismembered to allow union of the Sudeten region with Germany.

May Grow Wheat

City Of Edmonton May Use Variant Land For This Purpose

Edmonton.—A possibility the city of Edmonton may go into the business of growing wheat on its own account was seen as harvesting proceeded on a 5½-acre plot of wheat growing in "Dr. T. C. Routley of Toronto told delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association here. Dr. Routley is general secretary of the C.M.A.

"The 5½-acre plot, planted with certified Thatcher seed, is expected to yield 20 bushels an acre of excellent grade."

"Movement Is Growing

Calgary. The movement for "some sort of socialized medicine" is growing," Dr. T. C. Routley of Toronto told delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association here. Dr. Routley is general secretary of the C.M.A.

"Then the cabinet decided to submit the evidence to the public prosecutor with directions to bring action against Henlein under provisions of the act for the protection of the republic—the law with which Czechoslovakia deines treason.

Henlein's proclamation had been issued at Eger, Sudeten German city within three miles of the German border. It was first presented to the German official news agency and then was broadcast by German radio stations in Vienna, Leipzig, and Dresden. This procedure brought contexts of the proclamation to the Sudeten area effectively.

It was understood several other Sudeten party chiefs faced prosecution under the same law.

Premier Eduard Benes issued an order adjourning parliament which, although not meeting, technically was in session and ready to receive a proposal for reorganization of the government.

This action tended to support the opinion in government circles that chances of settling the minorities dispute had about disappeared.

Earlier the government had extended martial law in the Sudeten area, bringing about two-thirds of the Sudeten German population of 3,500,000 under military rule.

Alberta Government Not Submitting Brief To Royal Commission

Edmonton.—Premier Aberhart has informed Prime Minister Mackenzie King no useful purpose could be served in turning over the Alberta brief on Dominion-provincial relations to the Rowell royal commission.

Premier Aberhart sent an accompanying letter with 25 copies of "The Case for Alberta" to the prime minister for the "official use of your government" and copies of the letter were issued here.

Judging from press reports, said the premier, it was indicated the publication of the Alberta brief will result in its submission to the Rowell commission, which sat in all provinces to hear representations on Dominion-provincial relations.

"This government is not submitting the province's brief to that body," said Premier Aberhart's letter, "and we are of the definite opinion that no useful purpose can be served by any such action on the part of your government."

"It is the view of this government that far from the commission serv-

Current Comment on Local Events

OUR COMMENT this week is curtailed and spotty. One of the staff was called hurriedly away, so those left have to fill the gap. Many things of serious import have happened in the last few days, and at present writing one cannot tell what may happen in the next 24 hours.

EVERY EFFORT is being exerted by Prime Minister Chamberlain to avoid war over the dispute between the Sudeten Germans and the Republic of Czechoslovakia. The crisis has particular interest for the Czech people of the Crows Nest Pass, who recently celebrated the 20th anniversary of the founding of their republic of Czechoslovakia. Naturally they feel that their country, hemmed in by possible foes, is in danger of being sacrificed, or thrown to the wolves.

FOLLOWING Hitler's threats to invade their republic, have come threats or demands from other countries to have areas taken from Czechoslovakia which were established as part of the republic following the Great War. The greatest sympathy will be felt for the republic, and liberty loving people of democratic countries cannot refrain from openly advocating stout resistance to the demands of European dictators.

NOBODY WANTS WAR, except those who have an insatiable greed for power at any cost, nevertheless if democratic principles are to be maintained in the world, the right as we see it must be upheld. Prime Minister Chamberlain may be slow to embark on a definite course which might precipitate war, but he has the support of not only his own but of governing powers in many countries throughout the world in his humane efforts to preserve peace. Yet one would have a feeling of self-reproach and disgrace should the republic of Czechoslovakia be carved up in order to soften for the present the attitude of Hitler and his aides for Prussian expansion. The danger is that he will be later looking for fresh fields to conquer.

PREMIER ABERHART has another startling proposal, which so far has received little encouragement. All provincial premiers have been invited to a conference to discuss Canadian unity, while the Dominion government, the unifying force of the Dominion, is not to be represented. One wonders at times if the premier is really sane in his outlook, for it seems that his political and religious fervor blinds him to cool logical reasoning. Maybe he has an idea that he could have himself installed as the king-pin of such a conference, and so satisfy his overweening ambition for more power than he has as premier of Alberta. But other provincial premiers are not likely to march with Aberhart, after the record of three years lack of accomplishment in any one of his pre-election promises.

TOWN EXPANSION brings its problems. Spreading westward, habitations have been built on a piece of sub-divided land in a very attractive location. But dwellings have been erected so close to Coleman's water supply that there is danger of it becoming polluted. Provincial health officials in a survey have pointed out the danger to the town council and the water company, with the result that a protest has gone forward against the land being given the status of a legal sub-division. If the continued erection of dwellings were sanctioned, the only alternative would be that the intake of the water supply from the Crows Nest river would have to be moved upstream, at a heavy cost, which would have to be borne in higher rates by those living within the corporate area of the town. It would be poor business for the town authorities to curtail legitimate development, especially since there is a scarcity of building lots. The development of the sub-division east of town which was recently legally annexed in no way interferes with existing services, though requiring an extension of water and power facilities. But the development of the western sub-division does entail a problem which should have been fully considered before lots were sold to individuals, who, together with the original owners of the land, are facing a serious problem in the present situation which may entail inconvenience and resultant loss. Frequent sampling of water has been advised by provincial authorities to discover signs of pollution and in the meantime vigilance will be maintained to safeguard the health of the people served by the water system.

BUSINESS transacted by local governing bodies is the concern of all ratepayers, no matter if it be town or school district affairs. The Journal endeavors to give unbiased reports on all that takes place at these meetings, though it sometimes happens that both council and school meetings are held the same evening: Accounts passed for payment are also the concern of ratepayers, for it is they who pay the taxes which pay the bills. It is far better to have those accounts published as passed, as well as particulars of all other business, than to have people later enquiring the reasons for things they had not previously been acquainted with. Publicity in the newspaper avoids a lot of street corner gossip. Any public business which will not stand the spotlight of publicity is not good business. To always place the facts before the people is a good plan in order to avoid embarrassment later on, and saves a lot of time.

More and more people are being guided in their shopping by the store ads.

Fred J. Smyth Writes "Tales of The Kootenays" in Graphic Style

Newspaper Editor Records the Days of Goldseekers, Pioneer Settlers and Those Who Laid the Foundation of Prosperous District.

Fred J. Smyth, former editor of the Moyie Leader, a weekly newspaper published in that town when the mining industry was in full swing, and who for several years has been editor of the Cranbrook Courier, recently published a book, entitled "Tales of the Kootenays." From his young manhood on through the years, Mr. Smyth's life has been interwoven with the development of the Kootenays, and he tells of trials, humorous and tragic incidents, which are part of the glamorous picture in a country where men seek gold. The book came out at a very opportune time, just prior to the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the arrival of the Canadian Pacific Railway into Cranbrook, and it was referred to by Sir Edward Beatty in his address at the banquet given in his honor by Cranbrook reunion committee. In fact, judging from Sir Edward's reference to certain particulars, "Tales of the Kootenays" furnished him with good material for his address.

Mr. Smyth remarks that "remuneration for the time I spent in compiling it may be small, and will be mostly in the way of satisfaction derived."

The book will be a valuable record of the history of the Kootenays, and the work entailed might be regarded as very much of a labor of love on Mr. Smyth's part, in order that those who follow on might have a printed record in interesting style of pioneer life and the development that followed. Copies in cloth binding may be obtained at $2.00 and paper covered at $1.50, and will be mailed anywhere on receipt of the price. Orders should be addressed to The Courier office, Cranbrook, B.C.

Old-Timer Recalls Frank Slide of 1903

Lost Father, Mother and Two Brothers in Avalanche Which Buried Mining Town Beneath Millions of Tons of Rock.

William Graham, secretary of Coleman local of the U.M.W.A. from 1909 to 1914, and later vice-president and president of District 18 from 1914 to 1917, visited friends during the week on his way from Calgary to Arrow Lakes, where he has been living for many years. He is postmaster at Makinson, B.C.

Recalling early incidents here, following his arrival from Cumberland, England, he worked for International mine in 1903 on the first development work. His two brothers, who worked at Frank, enlisted in the Strathcona Horse, and served in the South African war, 1899-1902, returning to Frank, where, with his parents, they were killed in the big slide which wiped out the town about 3 a.m. on April 20, 1903.

Accompanying him on his visit here were his daughter, Mrs. Robins, and her husband, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Atkinson.

WEDDINGS

BARROWS-HOYLE

On Thursday, September 15, St. Alban's church was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Kathleen Alice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoyle, became the bride of Mr. Leslie G. S. Barrows, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Barrows, of Milk River.

The bride, charming in a suit of grey whipcord, with blue hat and matching accessories, and carrying a bouquet of gladioli, was given in marriage by her father, and entered the church as Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Clifford. The service was choral, and during the signing of the register, Donald Graham sang "I Love You Truly."

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Hoyle, sister of the bride, wore pink silk linen, and Miss Alma Hedberg, bridesmaid, chose peach silk linen. Mr. Gilbert Hoyle attended Mr. Barrows and Mrs. M. Cornett acted as usher.

At the reception at the home, the bride's mother received in a rust silk model, with matching hat and brown accessories. A buffet luncheon was served, during which Mr. Melville Cornett proposed the toast to the bride.

For going away, the bride wore a hand-tailored tweed coat, trimmed with wolfskin, over her suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows, after a motor trip east, will reside in Milk River.

Mrs. H. Mousher and daughter Evelyn were up from Lethbridge to attend the ceremony.

Local News

Mrs. Lewis Brown, of Sixth street, recently received word of the death of her brother, Lawrence Lumb, 38 years, who died while undergoing an operation for amputation of a leg, following a mine accident. He worked in a colliery in Yorkshire, England, and was unmarried, living with his mother.

Added to The Journal's list of subscribers is the name of Hugh Dunlop, junior, who has been appointed teacher at Woodbine school, Cherry Grove, in northern Alberta. With such harmonious sounding names, Hugh should feel that he is in a congenial environment. Here's wishing him success in his new appointment.

Speaks From Experience

Trained Newspaper Man Says Germany Plans Constantly For War

Germany's every move, political, social and industrial, is toward preparation for the day when a national emergency may arise, G.S. Williams, motoring editor of the Daily Telegraph, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, said when interviewed.

Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia are looked upon by most Germans as blood brothers ready for assimilation by Germany at the first opportunity. There is no question in the minds of Germans today, Mr. Williams states, that Hitler plans to annex Sudeten territory whenever he feels the time is propitious.

Only recently out of Germany, where he represented the Royal Automobile Club of Australia at the International Automobile Conference in Berlin, Mr. Williams speaks from long experience as a trained newspaperman and observer. He was taken throughout the length and breadth of Germany and many of their transportation improvements, including the thousands of miles of what he describes as the most advanced public highways in existence today.

The people of Germany appear well fed, the Australian visitor explained. This, he said, was a surprise, as he had heard before his arrival in Germany that there was a shortage of food.

It is true, he explained, that they have their meatless, eggless and butterless days. On such days they are satisfied to use substitutes for these foods—substitutes that their bodies are being trained to assimilate as food for the day when it may be necessary to survive on them.

Abolition Of Honking

Disappearance Of Horns From Motor Cars Is Foreseen

The eventual disappearance of horns and horn-buttons from motor cars is foreseen by Public Safety, the magazine of the U.S. National Safety Council, which advocates abolition of honking, not only to increase the public comfort but the public safety as well. Virtually every place where horn-blowing has been abolished has seen a drop in accidents.

Italy has had anti-horn regulations for the longest time and is completely satisfied with them. It is believed the privilege of honking will never be restored there. Anybody who uses his horn in traffic thereby brands himself (or herself) as a second-class (or worse) driver, says Miller McClintock, traffic expert, quoted by the magazine. A good driver in McClintock's opinion, analyzes the traffic ahead of him so no occasion will arise which will require his use of the horn.

That Time Off To Recover From Holiday Is Essential

Legislation for human welfare will never be complete until it embraces provisions for compulsory rest, cures for returned summer vacationists, says the Los Angeles Times. A man who aches all over from hauling big fish out of the water and whose imagination and tonials are frayed from telling about the bigger ones that got away can't be expected to hit the ball the day he drags himself back to the office, factory or store. A three weeks' rest after a two weeks' vacation would be just about right.

The Bank Of Canada

Is Under Full Ownership And Control Of Government

The Bank of Canada which was nationalized by the Dominion Parliament during its last session, is the central bank of the Dominion. It was established by an act of Parliament in 1934 and began operations in March, 1935. At the outset it was privately owned, though the government controlled the appointment of the Governor. Two years ago the stock of the bank was increased and the government purchased a controlling share. Retiring the privately owned stock gives the government full ownership and control.

The Bank of Canada is the bankers' bank and the fiscal agent of the government. The commercial banking of the country is carried on by chartered banks, which operate under parliamentary charters and are supervised by a government-appointed Inspector-General of Banks.

The chartered banks are ten in number and have nearly 3,400 branches and sub-agencies, distributed throughout the provinces and territories of Canada. In addition, they operate 145 branches in some dozen other countries. The chartered banks have an enviable record for safety, no failure having taken place in the last 15 years.

France Will Use Buses

If It Is Necessary To Rush Troops From Paris

The "taxi of the Marne," which helped turn the tide of German invasion 24 years ago, will be replaced with buses if the necessity of rushing troops from Paris ever arises again. The war ministry ordered the Paris Transport Company, owner of the capital's buses, to turn over a number of their regular city buses for use in army manoeuvres.

DAVID: TRIUMPHANT FAITH

Golden text: The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Psalm 23:1. Lesson: Psalms 23 and 27. Devotional reading: Psalm 101:1-6.

PSALM 23—Jehovah is my shepherd; I shall not want.
1 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
2 He restoreth my soul;
3 He leadeth me beside still waters;
4 He restoreth my soul;
5 He guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
6 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me;
7 Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.
8 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;
9 Thou hast anointed my head with oil;
10 My cup runneth over.
11 Surely goodness and lovingkindness shall follow me all the days of my life;
12 And I shall dwell in the house of Jehovah for ever.

PSALM 27—Jehovah is my light and my salvation;
1 Whom shall I fear?
2 Jehovah is the strength of my life;
3 Of whom shall I be afraid?
4 When evildoers come upon me to eat up my flesh,
5 Even mine adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.
6 Though a host should encamp against me,
7 My heart shall not fear;
8 Though war should arise against me, Even then will I be confident.
9 One thing have I asked of Jehovah, To behold the beauty of Jehovah,
10 And to inquire in his temple.
11 For in the day of trouble he will keep me secretly in his pavilion;
12 In the covert of his tabernacle he will hide me;
13 He will lift me up upon a rock.
14 And now shall my head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me;
15 And I will offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy;
16 I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto Jehovah.

Judge Came To Rescue

Settled Case Between Debtor And Creditor In Satisfactory Way

Judge T. M. Costello conducted so successful a piece of arbitration between a debtor and creditor in division court at Goderich, Ont., that now he owns two cords of wood for which he paid $6.85—the amount involved in the debt argument. "I can pay it in wood but I have no cash," the unnamed debtor told the proprietor of a baking establishment seeking payment of the debt. "I can't pay my own accounts with wood," the baker replied. "I want cash."

Then the judge interposed: "Very well. Deliver to me the two cords of wood and I'll pay the money to the bakery." The baker beamed thanks, the debtor grinned his pleasure.

Canadian Films

London Imperial Institute Wants More For Its Library

Sir Harry Lindsay, director of the Imperial Institute at London, England, appealed in an interview for more Canadian films for the institute's film library which illustrates industries, scenery and other aspects of British Empire countries.

Although Canadian films occupy the largest single section of the catalogue, Sir Harry hopes to obtain more films during his present visit to the Dominion.

Because demands of schools and societies for loan of films far exceed the supply, the institute has not dared to advertise the library's existence as the management knew wider publicity would merely swell the number of disappointed applicants, he said.

Nazis Are Forbidden To Throw Bouquets At Hitler's Car

Germans were not permitted to throw flowers at the motor cars of Adolf Hitler or members of his entourage during the Nazi party rally at Nuremberg.

The organizing committee for the gathering decreed: "Throwing of flowers at the Führer's car or cars in his entourage is strictly forbidden, because of the danger arising therefrom for the cars' occupants. Storm Troop comrades must be fully respected. Advancing toward the Führer's car is not permitted in any circumstances, as thereby serious accidents may be caused."

Deal in Remarkable Way With Rush Of Pilgrim Traffic

Richard H. Phillips, some years ago was able to beat his way about India so freely that in writing of his experiences he gave one the impression that the railway system was rather loosely run.

Automobiles are not so plentiful in that country and the trains get the bulk of the travelling business when crowds want to converge upon any one point.

The Kumbh mela attracts devout Hindu pilgrims from all over the country as it is considered a most auspicious moment for a bath in the holy Ganges. It falls once in 12 years.

Some remarkable facts and figures have been issued illustrating the achievement of the East Indian Railway in dealing with the phenomenal rush of pilgrim traffic to the Kumbh mela at Hardwar, recently concluded.

The highest figures on any one day for inward and outward traffic were:

Inward—44 Special trains, 7 Regular trains—Total number of passengers 68,050.

Outward—41 Special trains, 7 Regular trains—80,000 passengers approximately.

On an average each special train provided accommodation for 1,500 passengers.

During the mela period from March 12 to April 13 a total of 347 special trains were run to Hardwar and no fewer than 545,000 passengers detained at that station.

Father And Child Re-United After Thirty-Seven Years' Separation

A sheet of sacred music bearing the composer's name is bringing a father and daughter together in a trans-Atlantic reunion 37 years after the father went to Canada.

Marion Beeton Pull, district nurse near Maidstone, England, told reporters her father went to the Dominion shortly before she was born and that her mother died apparently without informing him of the birth.

She was adopted and raised by a foster mother who died when she was 21. Three years ago Miss Pull was playing an organ adaptation of "Abide with Me," when she noticed the composer's name was Edwin Pull.

The music was published in Toronto so Miss Pull wrote Police Chief Draper who got in touch with Pull. "Father and I have written each other hundreds of pages of letters," she said, "now he is planning to visit England and may arrive next month. He has been a church organist in Toronto."

Pull has remarried in Canada and has two sons.

Psycho-Analyst Adopts Queer Way To Cure Patients

Young men entered one of London's most exclusive restaurants, sat at tables with "reserved" signs, and fiercely refused the headwaiter's request to move to another table.

They read the menu out loud, shouted that they could not see anything worth eating, then walked out.

"A psycho-analyst made us do it," they told the restaurant owner.

Britain Prepares To Attack World's Distance Record Held By Russia

The seaplane Mercury, which, it is reported, is being groomed for a hop to Cape Town, now is rumored as preparing to attack the world distance record held by Soviet Russia.

It is suggested the famous upper half of the pick-a-back plane, which this summer flew to Montreal and New York, may be sent to Scotland for a take-off that would increase the airline distance record beyond the 6,306 miles Russian fliers covered when they established the record in a fight to the United States Pacific coast.

International regulations specify new record seekers must add 62 miles to the existing figure to claim the title. Southampton to Cape Town is only 5,960 air miles and the Mercury is expected to start from north of the Fifth of March.

The fault has been corrected in Albatross No. 2, which has been tested successfully.

The second Albatross is expected to start soon a series of long distance hops, preparatory to a trans-Atlantic hop with which Imperial Airways will resume its interrupted North Atlantic record program.

Imperial Airways proudly pointed to the "Heracles" veteran air liner which established a world mileage record on its "birthday," having flown a total of 1,250,000 miles, equal to 50 times around the Equator, and has carried 95,000 passengers without making an emergency landing or injuring any passenger.

Life On The Farm

Farmers Have Lower Death Rate Than Business Or Professional Men

If you would live to a ripe old age, go to or remain on the farm.

This is one of the interesting findings made by the public health service in a study covering ten of the American States. Agricultural workers in the states studied were shown to have a much lower death rate than successful business and professional men.

The mortality rate of agricultural workers per 1,000 population, between the ages of 15 and 64, was 6.2 per cent. That of professional men was seven per cent. The highest rate, 13.1 per cent, was for unskilled workers, while the rate for all classes was 8.7 per cent. Contributing factors to the high death rate in the unskilled class include diet, housing, amount of medical care, contact with infected persons and low income. Tuberculosis and pneumonia were the two most outstanding causes, with accidents ranking third.

Might Be A Bargain

The Italian newspaper Messaggero reported that the golden crown of Haile Selassie, once Emperor of Ethiopia, has been placed on sale by a London jeweler for a price of $500. The crown, studded with 718 diamonds, is a "great bargain at such a small price," the newspaper's London correspondent reported, "provided that the diamonds are not made of glass."

The noted French playwright, Henry Bernstein, returned to Premier Mussolini of Italy the insignia of an officer of Saint Maurice and Lazare as a protest to Italy's new anti-Semitic racial policy.

In a telegram to Mussolini, Bernstein declared: "You accorded me one of the highest distinctions of your realm in naming me an officer of Maurice and Lazare. Permit me to return the insignia."

"I would no longer consider it an honor to wear it when you persecute (reproachable) Italian citizens in the name of the recently invented racialism."

Will Help Take Care Of Large Crop In South Africa

The South African News Letter says South Africa grape farmers, menaced by over-production of wine, are turning desperately to find new grape products. The latest products to be marketed are grape jelly, grape glaze and grape slabs.

The jelly is similar in appearance to red currant jelly, and is intended for use in the same way. The glaze grapes look like jellybeans; they are made from a stiffer mixture than the jelly. The slabs are a semi-solid food containing all the nutrients of the grape juice, skins and seeds.

Kay Joyce, trim in polo shirt, fawn-colored breeches, riding boots and red nails of an equal lustre, leaped out.

"Jack!" she called. "Don't splash around like that. How in the world will you ever carry mother and me ashore? We'll be simply dripping, you old sally!"

It was Bruce Kenning, however, who finally carried Kay and her mother ashore. Hammond, all of a sudden, had realized that he was a sudden mess. Then, with the landing of the party, everything became confused; gold seekers crowded about, placer miners waded out to catch the rope which Timmy Moon had tossed to them, that they might knot it to a pontoon and anchor the ship. Now Hammond was back in his own cabin, talking excitedly as he changed his clothes.

"Kay's crazy about the cottage," he volunteered.

McKenzie Joe, squatted on the doorstep, turned his beaverlike head. "I figured she would be, for awhile."

"What do you mean awhile?"

"They're city people," said McKenzie Joe quietly.

Hammond laughed, tightened his belt, stood immobile a moment, then claved about him in the half-dark room for a necktie.

"Don't you worry about that, Kay can take it. So, can her mother. They like the outdoors."

McKenzie made no direct reply. He only eyed his partner.

"Kind of dressing up, aren't you?"

"Well," said Jack with a grin. "You know their first night here. We're all going to the Slumgullion to eat. Come along!"

"Nope," Joe said it half-brusquely. "Little abrupt, aren't you, Joe?" he said at last.

"Not particularly."

A queer feeling of resentment shot through Hammond's.

"Joe," he said finally, "what's been eating on you?"

"Noisy but mosquitoes, I reckon."

"Let's not joke," the younger man said suddenly. "You've been different ever since we came back here."

"Me different? I ain't noticed it, Jack."

"You haven't seemed yourself. Moody—thinking about something all the time. Grouchy, like you had a chip on your shoulder."

"When?" asked Joe.

"The other day, for instance, when Bruce Kenning dropped by our test pit."

"He was asking a lot of questions, wasn't he?"

Hammond spread his hands. "Oh, Joe—suppose he was? Can't a man be interested in what a friend's doing? You'd think he was going to jump our claims, the way you act."

"That wouldn't do him much good," the old prospector said, with a masked smile. "Not the way they're turning out."

"Then why be so cagey? We haven't got anything to hide."

"We've got our theory, ain't we, that the big discovery's yet to be found?"

This stuff that's been turned up ain't nobin' but chicken feed. We've got the richest placer claims along the new bed of Loon creek and we'll be lucky if they bring us fifty thousand dollars."

McKenzie Joe's keen eyes swept the valley. "There's a bonanza around here somewhere, if we ever find that old river bed. The idea's worth keeping to ourselves."

"How many stops did you make getting here?" Jack asked.

"Only a couple," Kay volunteered. "Once at Stewart lake for gas and for Timmy to study his maps. Then again at Fourcross."

Jack whistled.

"You moved right along."

Mrs. Joyce regarded her cigarette holder.

"That's what happens when a girl really wants to see a man," she observed calmly. Hammond laughed and could think of nothing to say. Kay crossed the room and dropped into a chair.

"Now that it's over, I'm tired."

Then she added, "Couldn't we have dinner served up here?"

Hammond shook his head.

"Nothing like that. It's a matter of getting it when the cook's willing. I'll have things organized for you in a day or two—I've got a line on a woman who can come here and do the work for you."

"Wonderful," said Mrs. Joyce, with her usual lack of expression.

"And in the meanwhile," announced Timmy, "we'll eat at the Quick and Dirty and like it!"

"When?" asked Mrs. Joyce.

"We're waiting for Bruce Kenning, Mother."

"As usual; we've waited for him for ten years."

"Yes—father always said he was the latest thing in mining."

Hammond laughed louder than anyone at that. Jokes had been few for him in those long weeks of waiting.

Bruce Kenning was coming in the door. After that, the conversation became jumbled; so much to be gone over again, calls for food from Timmy Moon, moonysable cut-in by Mrs. Joyce, questions to be re-answered about the trip. But at last they were down the hill and at the cruddy doorway of the Slumgullion.

For a moment a queer feeling of trepidation shot through Jack Hammond. For the first time, he

Hammond watched him stalk away; it was not his imagination, he strode toward him with a swinging step which matched her outdoor clothing.

"You old dear!" she exclaimed.

"I thought I'd better hurry back," Hammond explained buoyantly. "Just to be sure you were really here."

"The idea's worth keeping to ourselves."

Just One Day
It is a blessed secret, this living by the day. Any one can carry his burden, however heavy, until nightfall. Any one can do his work, however hard, for one day. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly and purely until the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means to us—just one little day.

Do today's duty; fight today's temptations, and do not weaken and distract yourself by looking forward to things you cannot see, and could not understand if you saw them. God gives us nights to shut down the curtain of darkness on our little days.

We cannot see beyond. Short horizons make life easier, and give us one of the blessed secrets of a brave, true, holy living.

You are cordially welcome at St. Alban's church. Your fellowship and co-operation are earnestly desired.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING AT THE UNITED CHURCH

Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held on Sunday morning. It would help if those interested will send their gifts of vegetables, fruit and flowers to the church on Saturday morning.

Not for years has there been such cause for gratitude for an abundant harvest. Largely increased traffic on the railways and a general speed-up in industry has a real effect upon the Pass towns. There should be a capacity congregation on Sunday morning to return thanks for this boon.

There was again a slight increase in the attendance at Sunday school last Sunday. There are many who have not linked up with any Sunday school. Old scholars are cordially invited to return, and newcomers and beginners are welcome. Mrs. Bevan has taken charge of the beginners and would be glad to have a larger group.

The evening service has been resumed, and at the usual hour, seven o'clock.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICES NEXT SUNDAY AT THE SALVATION ARMY

A special invitation is extended to all our friends and members to attend the Harvest Thanksgiving services to be held on Sunday next at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Suitable decorations and a display of produce will add to the attractiveness of these meetings.

Many Topics Before

Since the new subdivision is located above the intake of Coleman's water supply, it will in a short time become polluted if persons are allowed to settle there. The council authorized a letter to be sent to the provincial health department, protesting the location of a subdivision at that point, and also asked Coleman Light and Water Co. to support their protest.

A letter from Mr. Butterfield, provincial sanitary inspector, ordered the town to enforce dairies within the town limits to adhere to the Dairies Act, and owners not complying were to be summoned to police court.

It was moved by the council that no person within the town limits would be allowed to keep a cow on any lot. Constable Antle was instructed to strictly enforce this order.

A letter from Dr. Campbell, dentist, asking for a refund of $25, which he paid the town when he first started in business some years ago, was tabled. The Alberta statutes now allow a dentist belonging to the Alberta Dental Association to practice his profession anywhere in Alberta without the necessity of paying town or city license.

A bill from A. E. Ferguson, undertaker, for $20 re burial of the Vollen-dorf baby, was refused payment.

The location, size of rink and construction of a three-room building was placed before the meeting in a letter from John Salvador. After much discussion the council decided to meet in the park at 6.30 Friday evening to view the proposed location and discuss various matters pertaining to the construction of the rink.

Due to much important business still before the meeting, the council adjourned the meeting till Friday evening, when unfinished business will be dealt with.

Present were Mayor Pattinson, Councillors White, Atkinson, Andrews, and Borrowes. Absent, Councillor Plante.
